2009. Make the words of truth endure, and [to do so] is right, proper and accepted for us and forever, and it is given to us to be written in a book for everlasting memory that will never be extinguished. On the fourth day of "khol-hamoed" of "Pessach" of the year of 5653 (5 April 1893) the Rabbi, the Gaon, G-d fearing, and dweller on the His Name, mh"r r' BINYAMIN the son of r' BARUKH EBIN of blessed memory commanded before his death and said and wrote in his will in this language: The house surrounded by a wall that he has here in the market belongs to the people of the city for holy activities, a fifth of the "dakhad" belongs to the poor of Eretz Yisroel who sit at the "torah" in Eretz Yisroel, and four portions belong to the town's needs, things of holiness which are "talmud torah", "bikur kholim", charity for providing clothing for the naked, and wood for the poor... , and will be distributed by the "rav" of the town (the Dukhovneh Rav), and by r' YEKUTIEL HALEVY of blessed memory, and any rabbi that will be accepted in the town will appoint G-d fearing householders that will be with him to supervise over this. And the "gaon" rabbi r' BINYAMIN of blessed memory passed away in a good name and joined his fathers on "Issru Khag" of "Pessach" of the aforementioned year 5653 (1893). And he left behind a blessing, his son, the rabbi, the gaon, perfect in "torah" and good deeds r' DOV BER of blessed memory, and his grandson the rabbi, the gaon, perfect and elevated, the son of his son mh"r YITSKHAK of blessed memory, mh"r YOEL BARUKH, may he live for long days. And from the time that his father r' BINYAMIN of blessed memory passed away and until now, he acted properly and kept the will of his father, r' DOV BER EBIN of blessed memory, with the knowledge of his grandson the son of r' DOV BER of blessed memory, r' YOEL BARUKH, may his light shine, in the best and most beneficial manner. And now, after this "Pessach" on Wednesday "Issru Khag" and on Thursday when r' DOV BER of blessed memory became ill, may G-d have mercy on us, came r' YOEL BARUKH to visit him and found him alive, and on Thursday the twenty-fourth day of Nissan (11 April 1912) they agreed together and handed over the inheritance which is the house with the wall on the behalf of the town's and the Holy Land's charity to the following people's names: r' TSVI GETSOV and r' CHAIM YEHOSHUA FREEDMAN and r' YAAKOV LEIB LOMBURG. And the three men will hand over the house with the wall to the town's named charities, an enduring fund, and the "dakhod" will be divided as aforementioned. And now, on the eve of Wednesday, the first day of "Rosh Khodesh" of Iyar (17 April 1912), gathered together the leaders of the people, who are the rabbis of our holy community and all of the administrators of the town's charities, and the three men mentioned before, and the rabbi, the "gaon" r' YOEL BARUKH EBIN, may his light shine, and r' NAKHUM SONKIN, the son-in-law of the rabbi, the "gaon" r' DOV BER EBIN, of blessed memory, to supervise over the matter of transferring the house with the wall, to clarify to which charities will be given the house with the wall. And by mutual agreement the understanding emerged that the house with the wall will be transferred to three of the large and important charities of the town, which are "Bikur Kholim", "Talmud Torah", and "Somekh Noflim" in our community. And this was clearly stated according to all of the laws of 'conditions', prior stipulations that must be satisfied, like the conditions of the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuven, and etc., that the administrators of the town's charities and the eyes of the congregation, the rabbis of our community, whomever they may be, are obligated to approve and to adopt the words of the will of the rabbi, the gaon r' BINYAMIN of blessed memory, in all it's details as written and aforementioned, and the fifth portion on behalf of the holy Eretz Yisroel, and the charities of the town, which were mentioned before, will be secured and maintained, and all of the winds of the world will not move them away from their place. And expressly stipulated that also the first year after the passing of the deceased the rav, the gaon r' DOV BER EBIN of blessed memory that the "dakhod" of the house with the wall will be used for the expenses of the "praves" will suffer only the town's charity, but the fifth portion on behalf of Eretz Yisroel will arrive to it's place complete and whole, and also the first year will not remove it from it's place. And they accepted upon themselves, and upon their offspring after them, the below signed, not to alter any of the detail of the aforementioned will, even the corner of a "yud" , until the arrival of Shiloh . And may the deed of charity exist in peace and may great peace come to all of Yisroel, Amen, Selah. And we came to sign today, the eve of Wednesday, the first day of "Rosh Khodesh" of Iyar of the year 5672 (17 April 1912), here in our holy community of Slutsk. In affirmation ISSER ZALMAN MELTSER . 2136. Aha, father, father, the chariot of Yisroel and it's drivers. On Thursday, the 20th day of Iyar, of the year 5671 (18 May 1911), in the morning, passed away and summoned to the upper chambers, my father, the rabbi, the "gaon", the righteous, mh"r MEIR zts"l FYUMER, the son of the "gaon", the righteous, mh"r YOSEF zts"l FYUMER, who was a rabbi here for approximately 35 years. My father, the rabbi, the "gaon", mh"r, MEIR zts"l, aforementioned, was taught by his father, the rabbi, the "gaon", zts"l, aforementioned, on the lap of Torah and fear of G-d. From the dew of his childhood, every man saw in him that he was created for greatness, and he bent his shoulder to bear the yoke of Torah, and put nights like days, and his mouth did not cease from learning, and he did not want to accept upon himself the rabbinic position, but as his father, the "gaon" zts"l, insisted vehemently before his death "and he should accept upon himself the rabbinic crown because it suits him, I am sure that he would accept upon himself the yoke of Torah", therefore, when the congregation of Berezin, a district of Minsk, approached him around the year of 5629 (1868), he accepted the rabbinic position of the aforementioned town of Berezin. And he was a faithful shepherd to his congregation, and he guided them towards the springs of Torah and fear of G-d peacefully and smoothly. In the year of 5636 (1875) he resigned from the rabbinic position of the aforementioned town and came here as a "baal habayit" , and in the year 5638 (1877) he was accepted here to be the rabbi of the town, and in the year 5648 (1887) he removed from himself, again, the rabbinic position, and went from here to Minsk to live there as a "baal habayit". While residing there, in the summer of 5650 (1889), three honorable people from the congregation of Karelitch, in the district of Minsk, came with a letter of rabbinic appointment from the aforementioned town, and asked him to accept the rabbinic position of the aforementioned town, because the town is small, and his soul will thrive, and he accepted. And he was a rabbi there until the year of 5655 (1894). And in the year 5655 (1894) he was accepted as a rabbi in the town of Lechavitch, in the district of Minsk, and he there for a few months, and he left the rabbinic position of the aforementioned town and came to Slutsk, and resided as a "baal habayit", and several people approached him from several big towns, and he did not accept upon himself. And in the winter of 5663 (1902), the people of the congregation of Lechavitch asked him to come to arbitrate as a Torah judge, and when he came there all the honorable people of the town greeted him and asked him not to turn them down and that he should accept upon himself the rabbinic position of their town, and he accepted. During his residence there he guided his flock faithfully with wisdom and established several issues: a wood offering, to give wood to the poor during the winter, and he guided them in the bread, as he established bread for the poor. How wonderful was the sight when he went himself, accompanied by two honorable people to gather money on behalf of these charaties. And also he has put his eye and heart over the children of the Talmud Torah there, and often he would go to the Talmud Torah to examine the contents of the children, may they live, and he was concerned over their spirit and body. During Pessach of the year 5671 (1910), he felt himself ill, and after the days of Pessach were over, when he was ready to go to Minsk, and there were things be him from the issues of the town which he had to finish, he did not consider how weak he was, and he consulted with the great Dyanim, may they live, the Beit Din Tzedek of the Lechovitch community, and he completed the business. He arrived in Minsk to see the doctors, and when he understood from the words of the doctors that he is very ill, he did not shield himself from mercy, and he prayed to G-d, as customary to him, and wrote me that I should come there, and I came, and he told me that he wants to come here (probably, his whole desire was to be burried here in his fathers' graves). Aha, I painfully remember the great misery and affliction that my father, the "gaon", suffered silently, and now sigh was heard from his mouth, as he accepted the affliction with love. And the doctors were amazed at his strength and patience. The strength of his Torah and the strength of his memory were with him to his last moments. He was born on the first day of Chanuka of the year 5600 (2 December 1839), and he was 71 and one half years old at his death. Besides his greatness in our holy Torah, in Shas Bavly and Yerushalmy, Safra, Sifri, and Tosefta, and all the midrashim, he was a shining light in Halacha. His knowledge in the four Turim, and in the four parts of the Shulchan Aruch, went to the top, and also all the books of Responsa were open to him. Oh, Hassid, oh, Humble, his wisdom makes his face shine. A man of faith who despises cheating, engages in constant Torah learning, and explains all difficulties. These are the words of his son, who writes with trembling hands and broken shoulders, who anticipates condolences in the city where HaShem rests.... YOSEF, the son of the "gaon", the righteous mh”r MEIR zts"l He rests with honor by his partner in covenant the great, renowned rabbi mh"r YOSEF ZUNDIL zts"l of Salant, who was a leader here for approximately 60 years, one grave away from the aforementioned, row "six” by the "geonim" to the s"s. 3622. In order that the last generation should know the story of the greatness of our teacher, our rabbi, the pious rabbi, his holy and glorious name, mh"r r' REFAEL YOSEF, May the memory of the pious and holy be blessed. From his day of birth all the days of his life until he was asked to the assembly of above on Wednesday the twenty-third day of Sivan (20 June 1900) of the year "Oh, the ark was taken captive" the sun at noon became dark, and the city of Slutsk was in travail. And the mourners mourned him bitterly "Oh pious, Oh modest, from the pupils of Aharon who loves peace, pursues peace, loves the people and brings them close to Tora". "Ben Porat" r' REFAEL YOSEF was born to his father in the year 5589 (20 June 1829) the nineteenth day of Sivan here in our holy community to his father r' YITSKHAK of blessed memory. "And YITSKHAK found in that year one hundred gates and G-D blessed him" in a precious son, a darling child, and his mother ESTER, May she rest in heaven. His parents were humble people, honest and decent, and also their son they taught to be a honest and decent man, G-d fearing, who keeps away from evil and one who enjoys the fruit of his labour, as they taught him the tailor trade. And until the twenty-second year of his life he loved to listen always several hours to words of Tora as the spirit of G-D was in him from the days of his childhood. And from the twenty-second year the pious performed the words of our sages of blessed memory "The tailor should not go out with his needle before dark inorder he should not forget and leave" the paths of Tora and worship, but he quit his labour from youth during his younger years and he bowed his shoulder to study with great diligence and the will of G-D succeded by him because the one who comes to purify himself is assisted. His sitting in the house of G-D was in the "beit-hamidrash" of "Vatikin", day and night his mouth did not stop from reciting, and he made of himself "A man who may die in the tent" which refers to the [tent of] Tora, the Tora does not accrue, only for someone who kills himself over it. He ate poor bread and measured water, and his wife, May she live, lived from the labour of her work, and G-D helped him as in a short while he was able to give rulings in the "halakha" and to learn the issues according to "halakha", and until his last day, the time of his death, his mouth did not stop from reciting learning. Over Tora, worship, prayers, requests, poems and charity done by his body and soul - this was the delight of his will. And all the days of his life he prayed "Vatikin" and he never made late the reciting of "Shma" and prayer. His sitting at home was little as he did not leave the four feet of "halakha", Tora and prayer, just for the benefit of the community to do kindess and peace between husband and wife and between man and his friend he would always go. Bitter people over any sorrow, that should not come, came to the "beit-hamidrash" of "Vatikin" to pour out their hearts in front of the holy rabbi, and he accepted them all with a pleasant face and he blessed each one of them with a blessing and his blessing made fruit above, and he made himself available to all the sick people, May G-d save us, to bless them, and in their pain he was pained. He despised gifts all the days of his life and lived on a little. Only one man from our Jewish brothers, an honest and decent tailor, his name was r' YOSEF named as "gaon", r' YOSEF GAON was his name, his pure heart raised him from the first day that he began to study and YOSEF sponsored r' REFAEL YOSEF, the memory of the righteous and holy ones should be blessed, he collected money from all the generous people of our town to sustain his sons and daughters, bread to eat and cloth to wear, and he did not want to accept the remainder because he did not want to benefit from his Tora, and with this he did things for the public. Each week his job was to make sure that the public ritual bath should be clean and he warned the people over the Shabat before dark inorder that there should not be any violation of the Shabat, G-D forbid. And his intention was not to eat a bread of shame, G-D forbid. Fifty years he was a great light to all of the people of our town to direct a smooth path, the path of holiness for all the men of his age, as any one who wants to attain the crown of Tora may come and attain it, and by that kings will rule, and honour will eventually arrive. Blessed is the one who's business is in the Tora and gives pleasure to his creator. And he departed with a good name from the world, seventy-one he was when he died and the mourners mourned, May his soul be bound up in the bonds of everlasting life. And he rests in honour by the heads of the rabbi the righteous r' YEDIDYA HACOHEN KUZMITSER, May the memory of the righteous and the holy ones be blessed, and the heads of the rabbi the lord r' ELIYAHU LAMBURG who passed away on the sixteenth day of Adar a' 5649 (17 February 1889) row "five" to the town side.
